InfoXgen Logo Download for Croatia

The InfoXgen logo is available in two print formats and in both a colour and a black-and-white version.

Conditions of use

The InfoXgen® logo listed / approved for organic production (in Croatian language) may be used in the version provided by InfoXgen on the packaging or labels of products and for advertising purposes for products listed in the InfoXgen database. The InfoXgen logo may only be used with a white background. On a coloured background, the logo must be white according to the templates.

The logo is an indication for the buyer of the products that the respective product has been evaluated on the basis of Regulation (EC) No. 834/2007 as amended and that it is suitable for organic production.

It is a registered label. The logo may be used in product-related advertising, i.e. the direct reference to the listed product must be ensured when labelling the product.

The logo may not be used for certified organic products, such as organic certified animal feed or organic certified ingredients.

The use of the logo is free of charge. However, the company must send a sample label, an example of the packaging, the advertising brochure or the link to the online/digital use to Austria Bio Garantie d.o.o.

The company is obliged to use the logo correctly. In the event of any misuse of the logo, the business will be made aware of such misuse, and an amicable solution will be sought.

In the event of any subsequent breaches or if no amicable solution can be reached, the business is liable to pay a contractual penalty in the amount of 10% of all sales revenues resulting from the wrongly labelled product, but at least €1,000. This contractual penalty cannot be reduced by a judge in court proceedings.

Furthermore, InfoXgen is entitled to remove the products from the database with immediate effect if the logo is misused.
